Class of '78

The freshman class had expected to have trouble passing the new graduation requirements, but as the year went on they found that they weren't nearly as hard as they expected them to be.

About the only problem they had was getting enough class support to earn a little money for their class fund. They had some excellent ideas but none of them got farther than the class meetings.

The beginning of the year wasn't very successful for the Junior class. They didn't think they would have enough money for the Junior-Senior prom. As the year passed the class began to work hard to achieve their traditional goal.

One project was selling community calendars to families in the community. The person who purchased a calendar could have their names, birthdays and anniversaries put on it. The class earned much money that way. The Juniors also had an autographed basketball drawing the Pleasant Hill-Central Linn game. The basketball was autographed by all of the Oregon Ducks.

Junior class officers are: Debi Wilson, president; DeAnn Butterfield, vice president; Shelly Stewart, secretary; Karen Michelson, treasurer.

The 1975 Student Council had a very successful year, sponsoring two dances, Homecoming and Sadie Hawkins. They planned future assemblies for next year's students. The officers went to Black Angus for dinner the first week of school to plan activities for the year.

There was a major adviser change in which Bob George replaced Lorin Miller, because the students felt inhibited by the presence of an administrator at the meetings.

The council earned money for funds from the sale of student body cards. They donated money to the rally squads and other clubs. They purchased the gold Pee-Chees given to the students at the beginning of the year.

The student body elected President, Lori Geilish; Vice President, Darla Jernigan; Secretary, Teri Shores; Treasurer, Paul Dowdy; Parliamentarian, Roy Blighton.

One of the more exciting events of the year was the student protest in April. The cause of the protest was dissatisfaction with the bus schedule and the change of the present high school schedule. The administration called a meeting with the student executive council, which in turn involved each class president. At that meeting Dr. Howard answered questions and gave his point of view. The day ended with the student faculty taking over the problem and proposing the new compact schedule that would have run from 7:45 to 1:47. Due to lack of time and insolvable problems, the dispute was settled when a directive from Dr. Howard stated that the schedule would remain unchanged; and further study will be put into the possibility of using the new compact schedule for the year 1976-77.

GAA, an organization supportive of girls' athletics, was a busy group in 1975. They instituted the successful Christmas Baazar, featuring items handmade by PHHS students. In addition, they earned money by holding a carwash. The money earned was used to sponsor sports camp scholarships and to finance a club outing to the Oregon Coast.

FBLA

Back: Peggy Heinz, Steve Boyd. Front: Polly Plank, Lora Patterson, Peggi Welsted, Dave Surdam.

FBLA had a successful year in 1975. Their money-making project, a sale of stationery, placemats and calendars, netted over a hundred dollars. Members attended the district skills contest and placed in the following categories: Advanced Accounting--Dave Surdam, first; Spelling--Jan Lindley, third; Accounting--Peggi Welsted, fourth. At the state conference in Portland, Dave Surdam again placed first in Advanced Accounting.

HI-Q

The 1975 team consisted of 7 members. The officers of the club were David Surdam; President, Steve Boyd; Vice President.

The game of Hi-Q matches two teams of four students battling each others' knowledge in different fields of questioning.

To be in Hi-Q requires interest, dedication practice and nerve to answer questions.

The team put on an exhibition match with South Eugene High School and participated in matches with Central Linn, Creswell, and Cottage Grove.

In the third year of its existence, Pleasant Hill Hi-Q was 1975 Emerald League Champions.

COMPUTER

The eight-member Computer Club was advised by Mr. Adams and by Mr. Stedman in the 1974-1975 school year.

Computer Club's purpose is to learn programming in a non-class situation and to promote interest in computer programming.

Using the terminal located in Mr. Adams room, the club did programming for the other teachers and corresponded with other schools through the computer-message, handling facility.

The club went to the University of Oregon Computer Center with the Honors College in December and had a tour of the facilities, a slide show and use of the Pop-10 Computer Terminals.

Club Officers were Jeff Davis, President; Ron Staley, Vice President; Morgan Brown, Secretary; and Gary Baizler, Treasurer.

Ski Club

Students displayed much interest in skiing this year. Many joined the Ski Club for the first time, some who never have skied and some who have.

Though the Ski Club never had any club trips, Ski Club members took their own cars skiing for the weekend.

The Ski Club earned its money through dues and showing ski films during noon hours.

The club officers were President, Bill Chambers; Vice President, Jeff Berg; Secretary, Shannon Paapanen; Sergeant-At-Arms, Eric Newman.

The adviser was Willard Duke.

Chess Club

The Chess Club got off to a good start this year by defeating Williamette in their opening match. They didn't fare well during the rest of the season. They were beaten by South Eugene, Cottage Grove, Springfield, Churchill, Elmira, and Oakridge. They defeated North Eugene in the final match, to end their season on a good note, however.

The officers were: Dave Surdam, President; Steve Shipley, Vice President. Richard Adams was the adviser.

The purpose of the Photo Club was to provide a basis for photography class taught by adviser Richard Adams. Students in the Photo Club used the school's darkroom as they learned to develop film and photographs. Club meetings were spent in talking about photo techniques and the use of different filters.

The club members paid dues to pay for the photography paper, and the chemicals used to develop the film.

Forensics

Pleasant Hill had a new team this year, Forensics. Forensics, a Latin word, means a spoken or written argumentation, as in high school speech. The team's purpose was to promote interscholastic speech competition. Eight students competed in such categories as serious interpretive reading, humorous interpretive reading, oratory, expository speaking and impromptu speaking. The team traveled to Beaverton, Churchill, and South Eugene high schools for tournaments; they also participated in large tourneys at Linfield College and the University of Oregon. Highlights of a relatively successful first season were Robert Peel's second place in oration at Linfield and his first place at the district tourney at Willamette High, which qualified him for the state tournament at SOC in April.

NHS

The Pleasant Hill chapter of the National Honor Society enjoyed a very active year in 1975. They made and sold several items. These included the student directory, and Christmas gifts for the GAA sale. Members participated in a UNICEF project and marched for the March of Dimes' Mothers' March. They also attended the state NHS convention. The organization inducted thirty new members and awarded scholarships to several deserving students.

Officers were: Dave Surdam, president; Steve Boyd, vice-president; Lora Patterson, Sec.-Treas.; Jay Lohner, parliamentarian. The club's adviser was Richard Adams.

The officers were Teri Shores, president; Tami Keenom, vice president; Barb Luttrell, secretary; Angela Armstrong, treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to give its service and educate its members.

FHA's activities for the 1975 year were to give the kindergarten school a Halloween party, sell cook books and handmade items at the GAA Christmas bazaar. The service activities of the club were financed by the sales.

SAE advisers were Mrs. Reedal and Mrs. Bradshaw. The officers were: President, Debbie Hale; Vice President, Julie Hale; Secretary, Jill Cardwell and Treasurer, Susan Evanson. There were from 10 to 20 members who have some teacher's aid assignments as requirements for membership. The purpose of SAE is for students to learn more about education. One of the activities was an officers workshop at Central Linn.

Selling doughnuts was part of their funding. The SAE group went to the state SAE convention where Debbie Hale was elected State Vice President. The members also assist teachers in two other schools in the district.

VOCAL MUSIC

Girls' Choir

A new section was added to girls' choir this year—instrumentalists. They made a tremendous change in the choir's sound, making this best choir since Mr. Steinberger has been at Pleasant Hill.

A Cappella

A Cappella Choir with its some 70 singers, made some very large strides this year. The Instrumentalists made the group sound fuller. This changed the students' attitude and gave them more pride in the group.

Ascensions

One of the outstanding groups this year was the Ascensions. They competed in several contests. At the Stevenson, Washington Jazz Contest they were awarded first place. Dawn Simons was also awarded Outstanding Musician. (This honor usually goes to the instrumentalist.)

They sang at several school assemblies at Dayton, Mc Minnville, Calapooya Junior High, Pleasant Hill Junior High and Elementary.

They raised money by picking up walnuts and filberts.

There were 27 members in the group. To be an Ascension, students had to audition and be approved by the advisor, Jim Steinberger.

Fund-raising projects were a paper drive and a Christmas gift sale for which the members made all the gifts. They sponsored several successful dances. Club members raised enough money to make trips to Eastern Oregon, Clark Creek, Bedrock and Santiam.

The purpose of the club is, "to go places and see things and be able to sit under a tree and listen to the grass grow," said John Reger, adviser of the club.

The music was provided by One Way Alley.

The Prom court was selected by the juniors and seniors. The five princesses were seniors Darla Jernigan, Wendy Evanson, Cindy Hollemon and Nancy Allred. The Queen, Della Pierce was determined by the votes of the students who attended the dance, and was crowned by Steve Shipley at 9:00 p.m.

THE BILLIE CUP

The Billie Cup, an award given to the most active class during the school year, is one of the most coveted of all PHHS awards. The class of '77 won the competition for 1975 with a grand total of 69,871 points, followed closely by the seniors with 65,390. Straggling behind were the juniors (61,863), and in last place were the freshmen (52,415).

The sophomores acquired points by participating in a broad range of activities, but the largest block of points was for Pep Club participation-- 5,000. Other large amounts of points came from the speech and writing contests, girls' sports (especially basketball and track), dance clean-up, yell contests, elections and student body card sales. Above, jubilant sophomores gather around the Billie Cup, presented to them at the May Awards Assembly.

This year's baseball season started off all together differently with a new first-year head coach. Ed Dowdy, a member of the community, filled the position under the new rule which allows non-teachers to coach. Jumping off to a good start, the team won their first four games, but had a streak of bad luck, finishing 10-11.

Fielding presented its problems for the Billies. Errors throughout the season led too many unearned runs. It was these unearned runs that virtually put the games out of reach for the team.

Team effort did not go unrewarded, however. Paul Dowdy, with a batting average of .400, 5 Home runs and RBIs, received Most Valuable Player. Gary Lewis received Most Inspirational Player award. The Most Improved Player was Jeff Clark.

Senior Gary Lewis hopes for a home run as he connects with the ball.

President: Steve Shipley
VP: Beth McKee
Secretary: Debbie Smith
Treasurer: Paul Dowdy

A high-contrast, black and white collage of mid-20th-century American commercial signs and traffic lights. The collage features multiple instances of signs for "FLOWERS", "MOTOROLA COLOR TV", "AKOTA RADIO & TV", "BARBER SHOP", "HOTEL", and "MEN". Traffic lights with "DON'T WALK" signs are also visible. The composition is layered and overlapping, creating a dense, nostalgic visual.
